

Taking Children's Literature Out of This World

Gerri Jenny
Assistant Professor of Early Childhood and Elementary Education,
Slippery Rock University
1 Morrow Way
Slippery Rock, PA, 16057
274-738-4935
Geraldine.jenny@sru.edu

Fred Jenny
Grove City College
100 Campus Drive
Grove City, PA 16127-2104
274-458-2071
president@ascue.org

Abstract

Children's literature has numerous examples of books that contain references to places of note, historical sites, or distances traveled by the characters within. One way to enrich the students' encounters with those references is to use Google Earth and Keystone Markup Language. This presentation will demonstrate such a strategy.